Constitution, Policy Documents and Factsheets

FS: 02

Introduction

This factsheet details what the SSAGO constitution, policy documents and factsheets are, including the differences between them and how they can be changed.

The Constitution

The SSAGO constitution defines what the Student Scout and Guide Organisation is and the rules that it abides by. It specifies what is required of members, the executive committee and how the organisation should be run. Anything stated in the constitution must be adhered to.

Any changes to the constitution must go through the membership at a conference (either an AGM or a specifically organised EGM) and at least 4 weeks notice of these proposed changes must be given to the membership.

The current version of the constitution is available for viewing in the resources section of the SSAGO website.

Policy Documents

The SSAGO policy documents outline SSAGO policy in areas where guidance and further explanation is required. These aim to clearly set out rules and regulations for all members to view and must be adhered to.

Any new policy documents or changes to existing ones must be voted on by the SSAGO full committee (reps). At least two weeks notice of any changes or new documents must be given to the membership.

The current policy documents can be found in the resources section of the SSAGO website.

Factsheets

SSAGO factsheets provide recommendations and guidance for SSAGO members, they are not policy. They aim to answer questions for members to aid the smooth running of both individual clubs and the whole organisation.

The executive committee may publish, remove or modify factsheets without approval of the full committee in order to keep guidance up to date for all members.

All current factsheets can be found in the resources section of the SSAGO website.
